

Connecticut's PIRC

Parent Information and Resource Center

Serving Families, Educators, and the Children of Connecticut

Now Under Construction!

SERC is excited to announce that the Connecticut Parent Information and Resource Center (PIRC) will now be housed at SERC in Middletown. While currently “under construction,” the Center has begun to offer many services.

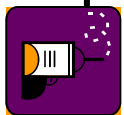

Among these are:

- A dedicated toll-free phone line with a trained professional to provide assistance—800-842-8678

- Expanded family and school-family-community resources housed at the SERC Library

- Expanded dissemination of information, training opportunities, and support for families, with targeted outreach to those from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds

- Support to school personnel and service providers in the development and implementation of effective parent involvement policies, programs, and activities

- Website containing resources and updated announcements

- Accommodations for families, including trainings during evening hours and transportation, childcare, and translation resources

For more information, please contact:

Veronica Marion
marion@ctserc.org
(860) 632-1485, ext. 391

Rosalina Mendoza
mendoza@ctserc.org
(860) 632-1485, ext. 326

CT PIRC · 25 Industrial Park Road · Middletown, CT 06457 · (860) 632-1485