

NAEYC Study Group

Come meet others undertaking the NAEYC accreditation process! Learning and working together with colleagues on the new NAEYC accreditation system can help programs successfully navigate the process. This support group will meet regularly for 4-5 months, in a location determined by the group, to provide guidance and collegial support to programs seeking to move through the NAEYC accreditation process during the 2007-2008 school year.

Participants in this professional development activity will:

- discuss the steps of the NAEYC accreditation process;
- explore the development of timelines to complete the four-step accreditation process;
- review program and classroom portfolio development strategies to ensure the development of complete and consistent portfolio content across classrooms; and
- examine the details of applying for NAEYC candidacy, including the Program Self-Assessment and the collaborative process used to complete the materials.

Please note:

A follow-up training will be available to a limited number of participants who attend this professional development opportunity. Details will be available at the session.
